S. T. OATES TALKS TO THE VOTERS

(Advertisement.)

White Plains, Ky., July 28, 1913.

I regret the necessity which forces me to write this, but I feel that I must do so in defense of myself.

I am the only candidate for county court clerk whose petition was signed exclusively by the farming and laboring people. I am the only candidate for clerk whose petition was made exclusively by the voters of my home precinct.

I am the only candidate for clerk that is making the race alone and single handed. I am the only candidate for clerk whose occupation is in direct accord and in sympathy with organized labor.

I am the only candidate for clerk who tells you plainly that I want the office for the dollars it pays. I am the only candidate for clerk who is not directly or indirectly connected with a ring, clique, combine or combination which is in direct opposition to the poor people.

Each of my opponents had to, or at least they did, circulate their petition in various parts of the county in order that they might get enough signers to put their names on the ballot.

In my letter of June 9, I certainly defined my position and what I stood for and I have no reason to change from that. I do not think that it is necessary for a deputy in that office to be a Greek and Latin professor and a French interpreter, but I do believe there is plenty of good and competent men in the county that make less than fifty dollars per month who would appreciate a place in that office and are democrats, tax payers and voters, and that are true and loyal to the cause of the great common people, the class to which I belong and the majority of the citizens of the county belong. I have made a clean and manly canvass. I have not tried to undermine my opponents and have always referred to each of them as being gentlemen.

Trusting that success will crown my efforts and I will attain the ambition of my life by being the next county court clerk, I am,

Very truly yours,
S. T. OATES.

Prominent Business Man Dead

Clyde Ruby, one of the most popular and prominent business men in the city, died at the home of Mrs. Emma Morton, Sunday morning, of typhoid fever, having been sick only a short time. Mr. Ruby was one of the members of the Ruby Brothers and was very popular among all classes. He was in the prime of manhood and leaves a wife and one child, mother and several brothers to mourn his loss. He was buried at the Odd Fellows Cemetery yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives.

SOME ROAD FIGURES

As Uncle Bill came out of the Post Office with a letter in his hand, the discussion of the tariff lulled, and one of the men yelled, "Uncle Bill-----"

The old man's face wrinkled into a smile as he held up his hand and said, "Hold on, hold on, I know what you want to ask. You see this letter, it's got just the answers you want, I'll bet a hat." He pulled the letter from its envelope, adjusted his silver-rimmed spectacles and continued, "You recollect that about a week or ten days ago all of us here at the store was talking about State Aid for Road building. Some of you fellows asked a whole lot of questions. One of 'em was, what some of the roads in this State cost the Government."

"Have you got the figures?" "Yep, I just went home and wrote up to Frankfort and got 'em straight. Say, there's more of 'em and there're bigger than I thought they was. I'm going to read 'em out, if you want 'em?"

"Sure we do"----- and the group drew closer about Uncle Bill as he seated himself contentiously on a nail keg.

"Well, I find that way back in 1821 Kentucky gave $1,000 to improve the grade over Muldrows Hill. That was part of the Lexington to Nashville road. But later when the people began to build sure enough good macadam roads, the state put the money up in big chunks. When they built the road from Lexington to Frankfort, she gave $78,122. That was 27 miles of road. Then here are the other roads:

Frankfort to Louisville, 52 mile $65,000.

Covington to Lexington, 85 mile $200,000.

Louisville, Frankfort to Crab Orchard, 123 mile $260,000.

Louisville, Bardstown to Tennessee line, 144 mile $500,000.

Louisville, Bowling Green to Tennessee line, 154 1/2 mile $442,000.

"How much was that all together, Uncle Bill?"

"Wait, I just got this letter and I'll have to do some figuring," and he got a stub of a lead pencil from his vest pocket. After quite a time he announced with pride and satisfaction, "If you add in the $213,200 for the Maysville road, that makes $1,758,322 that was given in State Aid way back yonder before land was worth much and before there was any factories or big business to tax."

"Why do you reckon they done it, Uncle Bill?"

"Because they had more every day common horse sense than we got, I reckon. They was sharp enough to see that it wasn't any tax; but an investment to boost the price of their land."

"I reckon that's so, Uncle Bill."

"Sure, it's so. The poorer your land the more you need a road to make it sell. If it's first class land and off the road, you can sell it; but if it's poor and off the road, you're up against it. Most of our land--well, it's poor enough to need a road to make it sell for a good stiff price."

"Of course, everybody knows that good roads are needed and needed bad."

"Well, then, if all of us know we ought to have good roads, and we know they'd improve the price of land, all we got to do is to find out the cheapest way, ain't it?"

"Yep."

"Well, then, if anybody's got a better and a easier way than State Aid, just trot it out and I'm for it all right."

Shuts Brain Off From Operation

London, July 26.—Great interest was taken in the meeting of the British Medical Association at Brighton yesterday when Sir Berkley Moynihan, Professor of Clinical Surgery in the University of Leeds, described the discovery by the American surgeon, George W. Crile, of Cleveland, O., of a method anaesthesia whereby the area of operation could be shut off from the brain for several days of necessary.

The Daily Express, commenting editorially, considers that the discovery is perhaps one of the greatest in modern surgery.

FOREST NOTES

The national forests of Chile cover about 7,000,000 acres.

The forest service of India has demonstrated that teak wood grown in plantations is just as strong as that grown in natural forests.

Even the well-protected forests of Germany are by no means immune from fire, and the Prussian fire protection system makes use of lookout towers and telephones.

Much of the so-called silk now days is made of wood. Germany produces more than 1,000,000 pounds of this cellulose silk, worth $1,500,000. A ton of wood worth $10 yields cellulose worth $20, and this cellulose yields silk worth $850.

Army bayonets now form part of the emergency telephone outfit of forest rangers, used chiefly in fighting fires. This emergency lines consists of small instruments and a coil of fine copper wire. The wire is attached to the nearest telephone line, the bayonet is thrust into moist ground at the other end, and with the circuit thus completed the ranger can talk with headquarters, report his position, and summon fire-fighters if necessary.

BEAUTIFUL LAWN PARTY GIVEN AT OAKMOOR FOR CHURCH BENEFIT

Ideal Weather, Good Attendance and General Good Time Enjoyed

A beautiful and very enjoyable lawn party was given last Tuesday evening by the ladies of the Woman's Home Mission Society, of the Methodist Episcopal church South, at Oakmoor, the residence of Paul M. Moore, on Main street. The grounds were rendered attractive by artistic hanging of many Japanese lanterns of brilliant colors and diverse shapes, and abundant seating was provided. Mrs. W. L. Morrison, chairman of the Society, was assisted by a number of ladies of the church, who had been assigned to the various committees. About two hundred people were present, of all ages. The weather was ideal and all had a good time. Delicious refreshments were served and a fine, fruit punch was liberally urged upon and enjoyed by all. A unique feature of the evening was the work of an expert palmist in the person and presence of Miss Minnie Bourland, who has given this interesting science quite a little study. Established in an oriental tent in a sequestered spot surrounded by scrubbery, she sat, under a wierd, green light and read character, the past and the future with surprising accuracy and to the delight of many young people who were guided to the tent of mystery by an active committee of young ladies especially detailed for that purpose. And she was busy the whole evening. The company voted "Uncle Dick" Ashby the handsomest man and Miss Rose Fox the prettiest girl. There were numerous stunts done by the wearers of various emblems with which the guests were decorated upon arrival, and these created much merriment. In fact the ladies had the affair so well planned and directed that there was something doing all the time. And the little folks—just played and played, and had the best time! W. L. Morrison and Rex McEuen are charged with having done the most of the lighting about the grounds. The "gate receipts" are declared to be satisfactory, though the social side of the affair is considered of even greater value by its promoters.

MUST BELIEVE IT

When Well-known Earlington People Tell It So Plainly

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Earlington the proof is positive. You must believe it. Every sufferer of kidney backache, every man, woman and child with kidney trouble will do well to read the following:

John Franklin, Earlington, Ky., says: "I have had no occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills or any other kidney remedy since they cured me some years ago. You are at liberty to use my statement as heretofore. I had pains in the small of back when stooping or lifting. I became tired easily. I also had headaches and dizzy spells and had to get up at night to pass the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills proved their merit by curing me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The reason that I have not made an active canvass in Earlington is on account of the illness of my opponent, Rev. Clark, who has been sick, and not wishing to take advantage of his absence in his home town, I have kept from going to Earlington.

A farewell party was given to little Miss Helen Elizabeth Salmon, by her little friends, Anna Marie and Margaret Helen O'Brien Saturday afternoon. Quite a number of little folks were present, among them were: Margaret Louise Rowe, of Howell, Ind. After many interesting games, intervened with music, the little folks were invited to the lawn where a large table had been prepared, and beautifully decorated, the color scheme blue and white, the little forgetmenot the chosen flower. They were served with individual ices, cakes and home made candies, after which the bade their little friends good bye, placing in a beautiful card album presented her by the little hostess, a card of remembrance, wishing it to be a reminder of her little Earlington friends, when she will be in her new home, seeing new faces and making new friends. Practical Ventilating

The house should be ventilated in winter as well as in summer if the family is to be kept in good health. Bedrooms, especially, should be provided with a free circulation of fresh air. One way to get fresh air in a bedroom without having a draft is to tack strips of cheesecloth across the top and the bottom of the window so that when it is opened in both places the fresh air will enter the room and yet, should there be a strong wind, its force will be broken by the cloth.

To The Voters of Hopkins County

I have tried during the past four months to see each of you face to face and talk my candidacy for County Court Clerk over with you. I desire to add that in case I have failed to see you, it could not be avoided, and I would be glad to have you, before you go into the booth to vote, to talk it over with some of your friends who know me. I assure you if nominated there is no man who will appreciate your support more or try harder to serve the people than I will.

This has been a nice clean race as between gentlemen and no hard feelings have been engendered so far as I know or am concerned, and I hope it will continue to be such to the end,

Respectfully,

FOREST NOTES

A shingle mill in Maine uses 2,000 cords of paper birch each year in the manufacture of tooth picks.

The new Chinese republic has established a department of agriculture and forestry. For a long time China had been pointed out as the most backward nation in forest work.

A toy company at Sheboygan, Wis., started out to use only the waste wood from other mill. It has worked out a system of using all small waste pieces so that practically nothing but the saw-dust is lost.

Austria not only sells timber, but timber products, from its forest lands and disposes of about 1,500,000 railway ties a year. There is no provision in the United States by which the national forests can dispose of manufactured lumber, though the policy of selling standing lumber is well established.

The Canadian government has supplied twenty-five million tree seedlings to farmers, principally in the Alberta and Regina plains region. The United States does not supply young trees to the public, except in a limited area in Nebraska and under the terms of the Kindred Act.

Surprising Cure Of Stomach Trouble

When you have trouble with your stomach or chronic constipation, don't imagine that your case is beyond help, just because your doctor fails to give you relief. Mrs. G. Stengle, Plainfield, N. J., writes: "For over a month past I have been troubled with my stomach. Everything I ate upset it terribly. One of Chamberlain's advertising booklets came to me. After reading a few of the letters from people who had been cured by Chamberlain's Tablets, I decided to try them. EARLINGTON, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, JULY 29, 1913.

PRICE: ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.

GAVE MONEY TO HOUSE EMPLOYEES

MULHALL SWEARS PAID FOR LITTLE JOBS THEY DID FOR HIM.

CASH FOR CONGRESSMAN

ILLINOIS MEMBER "BORROWED" FROM LOBBYIST AND NEVER PAID IT BACK, WITNESS DECLARES.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Martin M. Mulhall, before the senate investigating committee, in letters and on cross examination swore he had paid the chief page of the house, messenger to the speaker and messenger to the ways and means committee, monthly for little jobs they did for him. He swore, too, that he had given money to J. H. McDermott, for eight years a member of the house from Illinois. He said this money was "borrowed" and never paid back.

Chairman Garret, of the special house committee, announced today that Chairman Overman, of the senate committee, had promised to turn Mulhall over to his committee Monday. Indications are that the senate committee will not allow N. A. M. attorneys to cross examine Mulhall.

SUFFS ATTEMPT TO ASSAULT MR. ASQUITH.

DONCASTER, England, July 24.—An attempt by a militant suffragette to assault Premier Asquith while he was on his way today to the town hall of Morley, Yorkshire, to receive the freedom of the city, was frustrated by the police.

Miss Key-Jones, a well known suffragette of this city, sprang on to the top of the premier's automobile shouting "Stop torturing women, you scoundrel!" and tried to pull Mr. Asquith from his seat, but the police caught hold of her and dragged her away.

SAID TO HAVE BEEN PAUPER; LEAVES $6,000 IN BANK.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 24.—Public Administrator Newell today discovered that Ignatz Tepper, 50, a whiskey salesman, said to have lived formerly in Louisville, Ky., and Nashville, Tenn., who died at his rooming house July 20 and whom it was thought the city would have to bury, had more than $6,000 on deposit in a St. Louis trust company. When the box was opened $230 in cash and a certificate of deposit for $6,000 were found.

It was also learned that Tepper has a nephew in New York and other relatives in Louisville and Nashville. Tepper traveled for the Schiele Distillery Company.

FIRE AT CLOVERPORT.

CLOVERPORT, Ky., July 24.—Fire at 5 o'clock Wednesday destroyed the plant of the Cloverport Foundry and Machine Company here, entailing a loss of $7,000. The plant is a total loss, as there was no insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown.

PAROLE BOARD

Recommends Release of Julian Hawthorne and Dr. William J. Morton.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Julian Hawthorne and Dr. William J. Morton, serving a year's sentence in the Atlanta penitentiary for the misuse of the mails, have been recommended for parole by the parole board and the question of their release is now under consideration by Attorney General McReynolds.

The board's action did not become definitely known until today. The prisoners are now eligible for release, having served one-third of their sentences.

WILSON GRANTS PARDON TO EX-CONFEDERATE SOLDIER.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—To prolong the life of George W. Nunley, a confederate veteran, dying in the Paducah, Ky., jail, President Wilson today committed to expire at once the prisoner's one-year sentence for making a false claim for a pension. He was sent to jail November, 1912, for claiming a pension as a union soldier. Physicians reported he would die soon if confined longer.

NEGLIGENCE SCENTED IN CAUSE OF FIRE

WITNESSES TESTIFY THAT USUAL FIRE ALARM WAS NOT SOUNDED.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., July 24.—At public inquest conducted by the coroner today into the Binghampton Clothing company fire, in which many girl garment workers lost their lives, it was brought out today that the fire was discovered in a wooden ledge in a stairway between the first and second floor; that the fire escapes were never used in conducting fire drills, that the usual fire alarm was not sounded but that the alarm was given by prolonging the ringing of the fire alarm bell.

The fire escapes were in good working order but the flames from the windows made it impossible to use them. Each witness said smoking was forbidden in the building. Thus far the known dead is forty-one.

WANTS CONGRESS TO MAKE MARRIAGE LAWS.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—A constitutional amendment to empower congress to regulate marriage and divorce was proposed in a joint resolution today by Representative Edmunds, of Pennsylvania.

The resolution would amend the constitution to provide "Congress shall have the power to establish uniform laws on the subject of marriage and divorce for the United States and provide penalties for violation thereof."

BLOWN TO PIECES.

MONTREAL, Que., July 24.—Seven men were blown to pieces today by the explosion of a ton of gun powder at the plant of the Canadian Explosive Company at Beloeil. Pieces of brick and wood fell a mile away. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

CARDINAL GIBBON, 79, SITS FOR PICTURE—PREDICTS DEATH SOON.

Cardinal Gibbons.

Cardinal Gibbons, aged 79, yet in good health, and seemingly in better health than most men of his age, does not believe he will live long. His birthday was Wednesday, July 23, and the occasion was not one of great rejoicing, but of resignation for the cardinal.

"I will soon be an octogenarian," said the cardinal smilingly in his Baltimore home, "and nature must take its course. Almighty God has blessed me with a long life, and I am ready to answer whenever he sees fit to call me to render an account of my stewardship."

"I think that it will not be long now," he said slowly, and there was no sorrow in his voice—just resignation.

"When the call comes I think it will be a sudden one. We should all be ready for the call, because we don't know how soon or suddenly it may come."

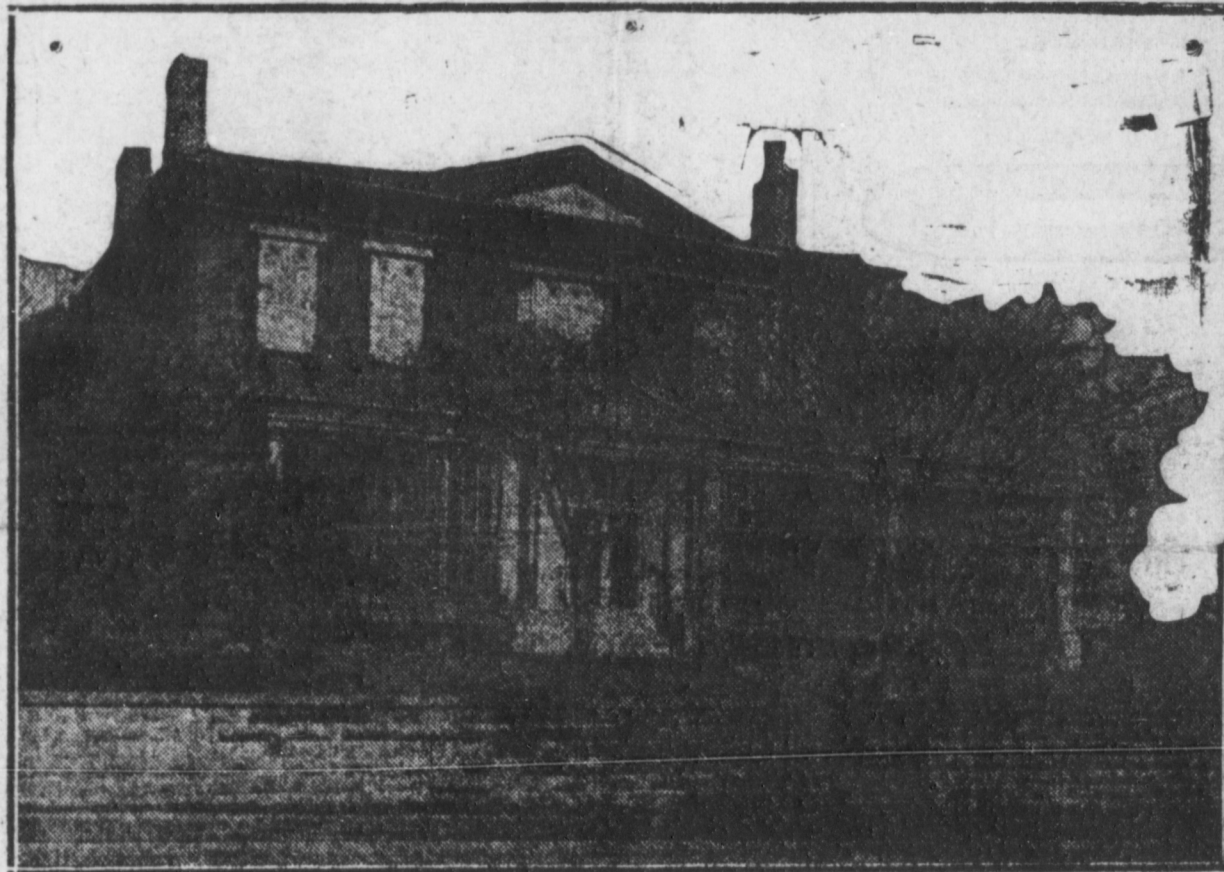

The visitor asked the cardinal if he was not in good health.

"Yes," answered the cardinal. "I still feel strong and capable of performing several more years of labor, but I think I will soon pass away. Perhaps I might live ten years longer—we are never sure."

TO THE PUBLIC

Every feature advertised on the reverse side of this sheet will positively be seen every day this week at the Great Hopkins County Fair.

Calumet Palace, Secretary Bryan's Washington Home; Rental $4,000 a Year Out of His Salary of $12,000

Can William J. Byran, commoner, maintain his Jeffersonian simplicity as secretary of state on $12,000 a year? Such is the question which is agitating official and unofficial Washington and interesting the rest of the country. Can he entertain diplomats on the $8,000 a year left?

Most of those familiar with Washington life do not believe an ordinary secretary of state could do it. The bill for wines alone consumed by the foreigners would, it is declared, reach a minimum of $2,500 a year. But Mr. Byran furnishes grape juice in his home.

Calumet Place is owned by Mrs. John A. Logan.

At the outset there was discussion in Washington as to whether Secretary Bryan would seek to keep up the social reputation of his predecessors. For the first three months Mr. Byran resided at a large hotel, and meanwhile looked around for a residence suitable for the requirements of the secretary of state. It was only a short time ago that he leased Calumet Place, a large, comfortable mansion, not in a fashionable section but sufficiently well located.

The house is adapted to entertaining and is regarded as a bargain at $4,000 a year, which included the extensive furnishings. That it would be possible to maintain Calumet Place properly on the $8,000 a year left after paying the rent is considered in some quarters.

measures are to be resorted to by Postmaster Mays, in charge of the Dayton office, in an effort to break up the promiscuous illicit use of the general delivery department. It is the plan of Mays to have photographers with yards of films, backed up by ever-ready reporters, stationed at the general delivery window to turn the limelight of publicity on the hordes of Dayton women who are conducting correspondence with soul mates minus the consent of their husbands.

MASSAGING OF WOMAN'S DIAPHRAGM

STARTS HEART TO BEATING AFTER SHE IS PRONOUNCED TO BE DEAD.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 24.—Dr. Stuart Hutchinson and Dr. T. M. Williams, of the Good Samaritan Hospital, today performed the most remarkable caesarian operation on record.

Mrs. C. A. Cazy, wife of a bank teller of 4222 West Second street, was taken to the operating room of the hospital suffering from convulsions. The surgeons at once began the caesarian operation to save at least the life of the child.

During the progress of the operation the mother's heart stopped beating and she was pronounced dead. The child was successfully brought alive into the world, and the surgeons then began a battle to restore life to the mother.

Pressing upon the diaphragm through the incision in the abdominal cavity, the surgeons animated the woman's heart. After three hours' work the heart responded. Transfusion of saline solutions, artificial respiration and oxygen were further used to aid nature and the surgeons.

Mother and child are doing well, and unless unforeseen complications set in both will live.

POLICE OFFICERS KILL WRONG MAN

IN AN EFFORT TO CAPTURE SLAYER OF WIFE—CAPTURED LATER.

NEWARK, N. J., July 24.—William Butler, of Kenvil, was shot and killed today at Dover by police officers who mistook him for William Corduan, husband of the woman who was murdered Tuesday night at her home in Newark.

Corduan was arrested shortly afterward near the scene of the shooting. The police theory is that he killed his wife by forcing a sharp rat tail file through the roof of her mouth into her brain.

The woman's husband disappeared after the murder and the police learned that he had gone to the house of a friend near the Dover race track. Their story is that as they waited outside this house this morning they saw a man who in the darkness looked like Corduan. They called to him to surrender, but instead of doing so he whipped out a pistol and began firing.

Chief of Police Bryan fired three shots at the man, who fell dead.

Butler was armed with a magazine pistol and a bottle of poison. His presence there presents a mystery itself.

TRAINMEN TIRED SO MANY DELAYS

ARE LOSING $8,000 A DAY WHILE ARBITRATORS ARE FORMULATING PLANS.

NEW YORK, July 24.—The truce between the Eastern railroads and their conductors and trainmen pending attempts to adjust labor difficulties continued today, but the employees showed that they were growing restive. They delay in settling terms of arbitration, they say, is costing the unions $8,000 a day, for they are obliged to pay the expenses of more than 1,000 members of committees representing the various locals who have not gone back to their various locomotives since the declaration of the strike vote.

The men said today that they were not satisfied with the concessions made yesterday by the railroad managers. These concessions, it was understood, were the dropping of three of the eight grievances the railroads have asked to have arbitrated in connection with the demands of the men. The principal efforts of the mediators today were directed to this question. As yet the federal commissioners have not been able to consider the original demands of the employees.

HER FOUR CHILDREN KILLED IN ONE DAY

THREE LITTLE ONES DIE FROM RATTLESNAKE BITES; ANOTHER IS DROWNED.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 24.—Three children of Mr. and Mrs. John Cooper, near Townsend, Tenn., were found dead yesterday afternoon and another was drowned.

While the mother was searching for the trio her one-and-one-half-year-old infant fell into a stream, a snake of which she had been told was in the water and was drowned. The three children had been sent to a barn for hen eggs. The mother was near the river washing clothes.

The long absence of the children caused motherly anxiety and she went in search of the children, leaving her infant son near the river bank. The four tragedies were soon revealed.

COLLEGE PROFESSOR NEW MINISTER TO CHINA.

President Wilson, himself a professor of politics in Princeton before he went into practical politics, has chosen a professor of political economy as minister to China. It is believed that Professor Paul S. Reinsch of the University of Wisconsin has long been known to the ex-Princeton professor. He will take the place which Charles R. Crane, the Chicago millionaire, and present progressive, would have filled had he not talked too much to suit President Taft, after he had started to the post to which he had been appointed.

Dr. Reinsch is a writer of recognized authority on oriental topics and Far Eastern politics. His works on those subjects have been translated into Japanese, Chinese, Spanish and German.

He was born in Milwaukee in 1869, was educated in Berlin, Rome and Paris, and began his work at the University of Wisconsin in 1899. He has been active in Pan-American conferences and in societies for the study of international law and historical research. He is married and lives in Madison, Wis.

BIG VICTORY FOR BURLEY COMPANY

COVINGTON JUDGE REFUSES TO APPOINT RECEIVER FOR SOCIETY.

PRaises THE MANAGEMENT

DECLARES BUSINESS OF COMPANY HAS BEEN CONDUCTED WELL BY LEBUS AND OTHER OFFICIALS.

COVINGTON, Ky., July 24.—In an opinion covering ten typewritten pages, Judge Matt Harbeson, in the Kenton county circuit court, today handed down an order declining to appoint a receiver for the Burley Tobacco company in the case of Elmer B. Stansifer, on behalf of the stockholders of the Burley Tobacco company and on behalf of the Burley Tobacco Society, against Clarence LeBus and about fifty other defendants. The order of the court was the motion of the plaintiff for the appointment of a receiver is overruled. Judge Harbeson's opinion is an interesting compilation of the various phases of the case heard last week. He gives a history of the formation of the Burley Tobacco company, organized to fight the so-called "tobacco trust." He said in part:

"There is no evidence introduced which would indicate that the assets of the Burley Tobacco company, consisting of factory, storehouses, loose-leaf warehouses and stock on hand, is of less value than $1,500,000, while there is evidence to the effect that these assets may be worth nearly $2,000,000, while its indebtedness is only $518,000, or less than one-third of its assets. In these investments there is no evidence of any unfair dealing or even bad business judgment, but, on the contrary, indicates the same attention and care upon the part of the defendants that would be given to their own funds."

"According to the evidence the assets of the company are not merely much larger than its debts, but also larger than the capital stock paid in by the defendants. The evidence, therefore, fails to sustain the allegation that there is any danger of loss or injury resulting to the plaintiffs or the Burley Tobacco company by reason of the continuation of its affairs in the hands of the defendants until the election is held for the board of directors."

The suit was watched with considerable interest throughout Kentucky, where there are over 40,000 stockholders in the Burley Tobacco Society, who by their membership to this are also stockholders in the Burley Tobacco company.

DYING OF CONSUMPTION.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., July 24.—William Springer, who is in jail here awaiting trial for the murder of Mrs. Anna Gray several days ago, is gradually fading away, being in the last stages of tuberculosis. Physicians say he will live but a few days. He subsists on milk, taking no solid foods.

WITHDRAW NAMES FROM PETITION

PULASKI COUNTY "DRYS" LOSE IN ATTEMPT TO CALL ELECTION.

SOMERSET, Ky., July 24.—When the petition with 2,300 names signed thereto were presented to County Judge R. C. Tarter by the attorneys for the local option committee asking that an election be called in Pulaski county for September 22 to vote on the question as to whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors should be sold in Pulaski county, the attorneys for the "wet" side presented a petition with thirteen names asking that their names be withdrawn from one of the petitions signed by them asking for the election, and the withdrawal of their names reduced one precinct below the required 25 per cent of names and the election was not called. This is the third attempt made by the "drys" in the past six months to get local option in Pulaski county. One time the election was called and held, but was "knocked out" by the court of appeals.

HIGH HURDLE JUMP
VERY SENSATIONAL.
AN ACT THAT AROUSED ENTHUSIASM OF CROWNED HEADS OF EUROPE.

People who attend the Fair of the West Kentucky Circuit will have the pleasure of witnessing an act that is truly sensational and that is Madame Marantette, the world's equestrian queen, riding St. Patrick in his remarkable jump of nearly eight feet. The act appearing in this bill gives but a faint idea of the feat accomplished.

Just imagine a man or woman riding a horse in a jump over the ordinary staked and ridged fence—about as high as the average man's head, and you have some idea of the matter.

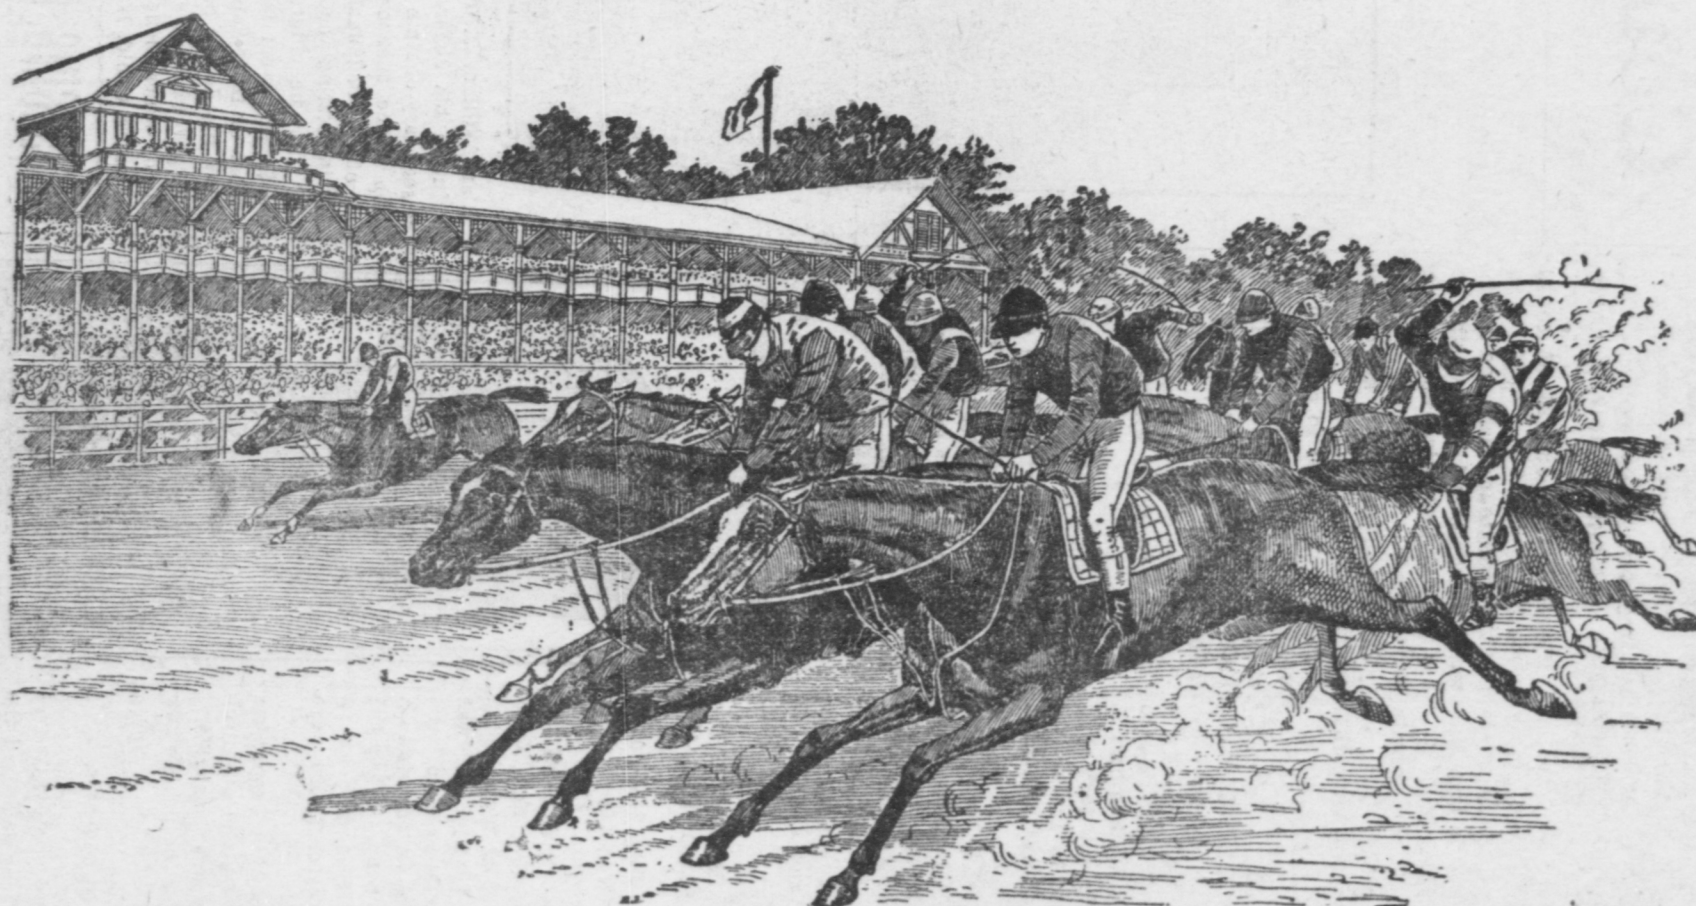

Then take into consideration that Madame Marantette rides St. Patrick in a jump of seven feet, ten inches, fully one and a half or two feet higher than the average high fence and you have some idea of what she risks and accomplishes.

This great attraction toured Europe three years ago with Barnum & Bailey's circus and gave a special performance before Emperor William at his castle. It played ten weeks' solid engagement at Madison Square Garden, New York; twelve weeks at the Coliseum, Chicago; seven weeks at Ostentang Park, Columbus, O., and is engaged as one of the feature horse show attractions for the State Fair at Louisville in September.

The other acts of Madame Marantette's Society Horse Show are high class and receive approval of the crowds everywhere exhibited. This attraction travels in its own private specially fitted car.

A FORMLESS NEGLIGEE WHOSE CHARM IS TRANSPARENCY.

The pictured representation of this lovely French negligee scarcely does it justice, for the filmy chiffon garment which falls over a lace slip is forever in motion as its wearer changes position, and with each motion the chiffon garment floats or clings about the figure with exquisite grace. The lace slip is mounted above faint pink satin and the chiffon slip-over is in a still softer shade of pink. Through the long openings at the sides edged with frilling, the arms are thrust.

DARNING THE WEAK PLACES

(By Ruth Cameron.)

"But there aren't any holes in those stockings," said Molly. "Why do you put them into the pile to be darned?"

The Lady-Who-Always-Knows-Somehow had been sorting out her weekly grist of stockings on the veranda, and Molly had been lying in the hammock watching.

The lady picked up the pair of stockings in question and ran her hand into them again for Molly's benefit. "I know there isn't any hole," she explained, "but see all those weak places."

"You aren't going to darn them?" asked Molly, incredulously.

"Indeed I am," said the lady; "I always do. I find it very much easier than darning holes. That's part of my philosophy, you know."

"Philosophy?" echoed Molly, inquiringly.

"Yes," said the lady. "I mean that I believe in darning the weak places everywhere in life instead of waiting for the holes to come. You know my husband inherited weak lungs. You didn't know it? Well, I suppose that means we've darned the weak place pretty successfully. Both his father and mother died of tuberculosis, and he was naturally stoop-shouldered and narrow-chested. If we hadn't done anything about it I don't doubt that his lungs would have given out under some of the hard strains he has had to bear. But instead of waiting for the hole to come he darned the weak place by taking exercise and sleeping out of doors and building himself up by his diet, wasn't that better than letting the weak place become a hole and then spending the rest of his life trying to patch it up?"

Molly admitted that it was.

"Well, that's one way of darning the weak places," went on the lady. "And Mrs. S. is an example of another. That pretty girl of hers is just beginning to realize how pretty she is and to think of nothing but clothes and boys. Some mothers would say, 'It is just the foolish age,' and wouldn't try to do anything about it unless the weak place became a bad hole, but Mrs. S. believes in darning the weak places, and she is doing all she can right now to make Dorothy modest and sensible and unsplashed."

"And then there are the weak places in our efficiency," went on the lady, warming to her subject. "Now, I know a stenographer who is so quick and accurate, and such a pleasant person to have around, that her employers bear with her bad spelling. Sometimes they get out of patience with her, but they have always forgiven her so far, and she thinks they will, and so she does not try to darn that weak place. I should hate to see it wear through into a hotel, because it would be so much harder then to patch than it is now, but—

"But I have tried," interrupted Molly, suddenly.

"How hard?" asked the lady, not at all surprised by the interruption.

"Not very," admitted Molly, reluctantly. "You don't happen to have a spelling book handy, do you?"

ILLINOIS WOMAN CARRIED ON RAIL AND THROWN INTO LAKE.

WAUKEGAN, Ill., July 24.—Mrs. John H. Richardson, wife of a crippled keeper of a general store at Voia, Ill., who has been charged with being more than friendly with William Dunnill, her brother-in-law, last Tuesday was kidnapped by a band of women who rode her on a rail about a quarter of a mile and then threw her into a lake.

After the bath, which was accompanied by kicks and pelting with slimy mud, the women gave her 24 hours in which to leave town. As Mrs. Richardson had not left Wednesday night they again descended upon the house, armed with a pall of hot tar but were frustrated in their attempts to apply it, the woman remaining in safety behind barred doors.

Dunnill has left Voia, his wife mortgaging their home in order to get him the money.

The "rail" party had been contemplated for more than a year.

The ONLOOKER

HENRY HOWLAND

WHEN WILLIE MOWS the LAWN

When Willie has to mow the lawn he thinks his lot is very hard; In doleful tones he asks us why we wish to have so large a yard; He bitterly complains about aches in his arms and sides and back; He fears the work will stunt his growth and frets for servants that we lack.

When Willie mows the lawn he makes us feel that he is much abused. And when he's through the mower looks as if it had been badly used; He never throws a stick aside or lifts a wire from the way; He skips the corners shamelessly, although we give him double pay.

Whenever Willie mows the lawn the neighbors all have cause to know, And when he's through you might suppose that he had done it with a hoe; He scatters grass upon the walks, he never gives a weed a glance; He skins the shrubs and barks the trees, and wants his money in advance.

He sits upon the steps and sighs and, when he's through, can hardly crawl; But merrily he keeps it up all day when he is playing ball; He is full of ginger then, he skips as lightly as a fawn, But all his strength forsakes him when our Willie has to mow the lawn.

It Will Not Help.

"Some day people will have advanced so far upon the way to civilization that every man and every woman will be permitted to wear what he or she wishes to wear, without being subjected to public criticism or the hoots of foolish mobs."

"But do you think that will be any advantage?"

"Certainly."

"No, even then it will not be possible for any woman to wear what she likes, for no woman's husband will ever be able to afford that."

One Trouble About It.

"My dear," said Bounderly, "I'll tell you what let's do. We've tried about everything else in the way of stirring things up in this town; now let us have a party which shall be exclusively for the divorced people in our set."

"It would be a splendid thing. However, and the newspapers would probably give us a lot of space on it," his wife replied, "but you know how I hate a crush."

Gentle Fannie.

"What are you laughing at, Ma-bell?"

"I've just got a letter from Cousin Fannie."

"I never suspected that your Cousin Fannie was much of a humorist. Where is she?"

"In Holland. She says she intends to send me picture postcards from Rotterdam and Amsterdam."

The Only Thing She Could Do.

"My goodness! I can't understand how she could give up her child. They say it has really been adopted by a family that lives in the country."

"Yes. You see she found a flat that just suited her, and they wouldn't allow children in the building."

No Chance to Spite Him.

"Why do you put up with the manager's boorishness?" asked the leading man. "You could get another engagement tomorrow if you were to leave this company."

"I know it," replied the lady star, "but my understudy won't even catch a bad cold."

Dangerous.

"What are you trying to do, son?"

"I'm tattooing my arm."

"Don't do it. I had the name of my first wife tattooed on myself, and I've had a deuce of a time explaining it to each of the rest of my wives."

No Idea of Business.

"Business!" exclaimed his wife; "Charles has no idea of business whatever. Why he wouldn't know any better than to go to France and invest his savings in a baby buggy factory."

Doing the Right Thing.

A man may do the right thing, and yet be a failure, unless he occasionally does it at the right time.

MEDICINE!

Most of us place all together too much faith in medicine. Of all the hundreds of known diseases, very few can, in every instance, be cured by any single kind of medicine. Sometimes one person, suffering from a given disease, will not be affected, or may even be harmed by a medicine which has been given with good effects to another person. Most diseases are the result of self-indulgence, or carelessness, or ignorance, and nearly all of the sure cures, where cures are possible, are provided by nature. This is especially true in the case of consumption. There are some few cases that are benefited by medicine, but no medicine can yield a cure, or even a considerable improvement, unless it co-operates with the forces of nature. There are quantities of medicine sold in the stores and advertised in every conceivable way, as cures for tuberculosis. Most of them actually injure the person who takes them; because most of them contain opiates or other harmful drugs. Every one of these "consumption cures" is planned simply to enrich the manufacturer at the expense of the most helpless people in the world. If your doctor is unable to give you medicine to cure you, don't think you can pass the druggist 50 cents or $5.00, and cure yourself.

VISITING NURSES!

A visiting nurse is a trained nurse with a special experience, supported by the city, or county, or some charitable organization, who devotes her time to visiting the sick, giving them advice, and such assistance or service as she can render in a short time. Of course, a visiting nurse is unable to attend cases of such highly infectious diseases as scarlet fever in the course of her regular duties. She is under the orders of the physician and is not allowed to make diagnoses. One such nurse can relieve a great deal of distress; but it is rather a harder task to prevent disease than to cure it. When, for instance, she goes to look after one case of consumption in a family, she watches the other members of the household carefully in order to see whether or not there are others just coming down with the disease. She visits patients during the period of convalescence to guard against a relapse or the catching of some other disease. She educates the families of her patients regarding what to do for the patient and how to take care of themselves so as to avoid the same disease. There are at present few visiting nurses in Kentucky. Wouldn't you like to have one in your community? Wouldn't it be worth a little of your money every month for her support?

BATH TUBS!

Keep on friendly terms with your bath tub. It is the business of the skin to pass off to the surface of the body some of the waste products. In the process of hard manual work or violent exercises unusual large amounts of waste products are made, and the sweat carries them off with greater rapidity. The action of the breeze and the rubbing of the clothes remove some of this waste, but it can not be thoroughly done except with water. A warm bath with the use of a little soap once a week is the minimum with which the skin can do its best work. Baths can well be taken more frequently, especially if one takes a great deal of exercise. Quick baths in cold water without the use of soap toughens the body and makes one less liable to have colds. However, such baths do not give the skin a thorough cleansing, and ought not to be taken by very delicate, sensitive people except under the recommendation of a physician. Baths not only cleanse the skin, but they also start the blood to moving faster. It is known also that they have a marked effect on the nervous system. People who are exceedingly nervous or insane can be more easily and surely quieted by properly administered baths than in any other way. For continuous mental and physical health, a bath a day is an excellent rule. Teach this to your children!

EXERCISE!

A person leading a quiet, sedentary life is healthy only by accident, unless he makes up for by a little vigorous, open air exercise. Cram a locomotive fire-box with coal, without removing the clinders, and the engine will become so clogged as not to work properly. The body is exactly like a locomotive; if it is not exercised, the waste products accumulate and the result is disease. Moreover, judicious exercise shakes up the organs of the body and increases their activity; it keeps the extraordinary emergencies which may come to any of us; and if taken heartily, diverts the mind from its ordinary cares and lets a man return with new vigor and refreshed spirits to his tasks.

Ninety per cent of the women who bother the doctors with all sorts of more or less vague complaints, need nothing but a loose dress, a hoe and a garden.

NEW "SAFE AND SANE" POET LAUREATE OF ENGLAND.

Of all the thirteen or fourteen poets mentioned for poet laureate of Britain to succeed the late Alfred Austin, whose verse was sometimes laughed at, Premier Asquith has seen fit to choose a "safe and sane" poet, like the democratic party's safe and sane candidate for president of the United States in 1904. Dr. Robert Bridges, who is 69 years of age, and who has never written the kind of poetry which appealed to the average Britain, won the position over such as Rudyard Kipling, Alfred Noyes, John Masefield, who used to be a waiter in a Sixth Avenue restaurant in New York City, and a half dozen others.

Here is a triolet of Dr. Bridges which give a fair idea of his Muse: gasus:

When first we met, we did not guess
That Love would prove so hard a master.

Of more than common friendliness,
When first we met, we did not guess.
Who could foretell the sore distress,
This irrefragable disaster.

When first we met?—we did not guess
That Love would be so hard a master.

The new laureate was born in Kent, October 23, 1844, and is therefore in his sixty-ninth year. He was educated at Eton and at Corpus Christi college, Oxford. On graduation he studied medicine at St. Bartholomew's hospital, and was appointed assistant physician at the Children's hospital and later physician at the Great Northern hospital, in London. Not until his retirement in 1882 did Dr. Bridges devote himself entirely to literature, playwriting and poetry. In that year he married Mary, the daughter of Alfred Waterhouse, a famous academy painter.

While Bridges is not so well known to the general public as some of the other fourteen candidates for the laureateship, among literary men in England the appointment is distinctly popular.

Bridges's chief critical work is "John Keats, a Critical Essay," which he published in 1896. He also published a volume on "Milton's Prosody." His own poetry has never had a wide sale, although highly appreciated in select circles.

His latest volume of poems, recently published by Henry Frowde at the Oxford University Press, is not of the kind that appeals to the multitude, but the patriotic flavor of much of his verse undoubtedly had something to do with his appointment.

FRIENDLY SCUFFLE ENDS IN TRAGEDY.

PIKEVILLE, Ky., July 21.—Becoming enraged because he was worsted in a friendly scuffle, George Hatcher, a farmer living at Harold, after a fight with stones, rushed into his house, brought out a rifle and shot Frank Vincent, a brakeman; Will Goodman and Jim Smith, miners. Goodman was shot through the abdomen and his wounds are fatal. Vincent was shot through the left side of the head, and Smith through the arm. They will recover. Hatcher submitted to arrest.

IMPORTING NURSES.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., July 24.—Nurses are being imported here to help fight the typhoid fever epidemic that has been raging in the city for several days. There are more than 100 cases of the disease here now, according to the city health board. Hospitals that hitherto have refused to take contagious cases are now opening their doors to the typhoid fever patients. Many people are boiling their water and milk.

PROHIB CANDIDATE PLEADS GUILTY TO HORSE STEALING.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 23.—J. C. Russell, once a candidate for mayor if this city on the prohibition ticket, arraigned on a charge of horse stealing today pleaded guilty in district court. He was sentenced to an intermediate term in state prison. This will make the third time Russell has served in the state penitentiary. He also has a record of six terms in the Minneapolis workhouse. Drink, he says, was the cause of his downfall.

KENTUCKIANS' HOME-COMING

ONE MILLION FORMER RESIDENTS INVITED TO ATTEND GREAT CELEBRATION.

RAILROADS OFFER LOW RATES

Perry's Victory on Lake Erie, Battle of Thames and Massacre of River Raisin To Be Reproduced in Fire-works and Sham Battles.

One million expatriated Kentuckians and their children, even to the fourth and fifth generations, have been invited to return to Louisville to participate in the Perry's Victory Centennial Celebration, to be held in that city seven days, beginning September 29. Those particularly invited are the descendants of Kentucky soldiers and sailors of the War of 1812, and it is estimated that 75 per cent of native-born Kentuckians and the descendants of those born in Kentucky in the past century are eligible to participate in such a celebration. Approximately one million people now living in other states are included in the "list of those invited."

The purpose of the Louisville celebration is to commemorate not only Perry's victory on Lake Erie but all other events of the war of 1812. However, in particular honor of Commodore Perry a special attraction in the Louisville celebration will be the reunion of the Perry family, regardless of kinship. Everybody by the name of "Perry" will be invited to this special entertainment and those who expect to attend are requested to notify Edwin Perry at the Louisville headquarters.

GOVERNOR ISAAC SHELBY, OF KENTUCKY
Who in person led the victorious forces in the Battle of the Thames.

The Kentucky Association, which has in charge the Louisville celebration, has given an order for a quarter of a million ancestry certificates to be handsomely engraved, and which will be filled in and given away as souvenirs to descendants of Kentucky soldiers and sailors of the War of 1812.

Another entertainment in their honor will be a mammoth reception, at which refreshments will be served and opportunity provided for public addresses. For the few remaining actual sons and daughters a banquet will be given. A great ball will be given in the First Regiment Armory, which has a capacity of 20,000 for them.

Forty per cent of the white male population of Kentucky engaged in the War of 1812, consequently forty per cent of the succeeding generation were really sons and daughters of that war, and estimating that one-half of them intermarried with families which did not participate in the war, sixty per cent of the third generation were grandchildren of the war, and in similar manner at least seventy-five per cent and probably as high as ninety per cent of the fourth and incoming fifth generations are descendants of Kentuckians who fought in that war.

It is estimated that in the state of Kentucky alone one million men, women and children are eligible to participate in the proposed reunion, and it is estimated that another million now living outside of Kentucky are eligible to participate.

During the week of the celebration in Louisville spectacular free events, including features on a mammoth scale not heretofore given with any American celebration, will be provided every afternoon and evening. Pilgrimages to notable historic scenes of interest may be made in the mornings. In addition to free attractions there will be scores of the highest priced amusement concessions that can be secured on the American continent.

The railroads in a radius of 500 miles of Louisville have been asked to make a rate for the celebration week and immediately preceding and following that week of one cent a mile. Railroads running out of Louisville probably will give low rates to other points in Kentucky, so that former Kentuckians who live a great distance can visit their old homes as well as attend the Louisville celebration.

Local committees are preparing an 1812 museum, in which they solicit the loan of any souvenir or relic of the War of 1812, providing the transportation at their expense, and guaranteeing that articles loaned for the week will be returned to owners. This museum for the time being will undoubtedly be the most valuable collection in America.

TO THE FARMERS OF KENTUCKY.

For a quarter of a century the great problems of manufacturing and of transportation have been handed upon the advice of experts—men whose accurate and scientific knowledge extends to the minutest points.

In the past few years able men have realized that farming could be put upon the same basis—that instead of being of necessity a haphazard enterprise it is one of the most scientific businesses in the world—that it may be as accurate and as reliable as those processes of nature upon which it depends.

It has been realized also, that the principles of co-operation which have worked out such great things in the industrial world, may be used with equal effectiveness in the realms of agriculture.

To aid in the rapid spread of these ideas and principles seems to me to be a most useful and noble work, and one in which I would gladly have a part in Kentucky.

With this thought, I have decided to give an old-fashioned barbecue at my home in Woodford county, near Versailles, on Wednesday, August 20. It will be my aim to have matters along the lines I indicated discussed by some of the great agricultural experts of the country, and it will be my hope that this may give fresh impetus to the work in Kentucky for the farmers which is already so well begun.

Every farmer, and every farmer's wife, and every one interested in better farming, in the state, who feels an interest in increasing the rewards of agriculture, and in bettering the conditions of farm life, is most cordially and urgently invited to be my guest on August 20. This invitation is given in the spirit of good fellowship, and the desire to help, and all who accept it will be most warmly welcomed.

Very sincerely,
J. N. CAMDEN.

SOMNAMBULIST INJURED.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., July 24.—Edward Willis, 46, while walking in his sleep early this morning, fell from the second story of his home and was internally injured. He will probably die.

LOST ON RACES AND JUMPED IN NIAGARA.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 24.—The body of Claude McOlliver, the negro of 207 Fourth street, Louisville, who leaped into Niagara river at International bridge in Niagara Falls last week, was found at Chippewa, Ont., early today. McOlliver was employed at the Ft. Erie race track and committed suicide because he had suffered heavy losses at the races.

THE JINX.

You may have the finest pitcher that has ever pitched a pitch;
You may have a clever batter and an umpire that's a cinch;
You may have the best base-runners to help—but what's the use?
Every one will go to pieces when the Jinx breaks loose.

It can turn the finest pitcher to a veritable dub;
Queer the best three-hundred hitter till he's useless with his club;
It can turn your brain to cotton and your spine to Charlotte Russe.
And you find your grip is going when the Jinx breaks loose.

It may be a cross-eyed fellow that you met that afternoon;
Or a bat laid on the bias, or a boy who hums a tune;
It may be the smell of camphor or the sight of a caboose!
But you're surely up against it when the Jinx breaks loose.

Yes, of course, there are Jinx-killers, warranted to kill the Jinx.
Neckties—loads of empty barrels—rubbing darters' wooly kinks—Carting round a Kansas Farmer, spoiling hats, chewing spruce;
But the killers seem to wither when the Jinx breaks loose.

HAYS, DEMOCRAT, ELECTED GOVERNOR OF ARKANSAS.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 24.—Returns received up to midnight, while incomplete, show the election today of George W. Hays, of Ouachita county, the democratic nominee as governor of Arkansas by a majority smaller than usually given the democratic gubernatorial candidate. Harry H. Myers, republican; George W. Murphy, progressive, and Emile Webber, socialist, were the other candidates. Myers has a slight lead over Murphy for second place.
